RECEDES FROM HER POSITION

Action of Great Britain Causes Considerable Surprise.

CONFERENCE WILL BE HELD

Powers Will Endeavor to Settle the Crisis in the Near East and England Now is Willing That the Conference Shall Consider Other Questions in Addition to Those of Bosnia and Bulgaria.

London, Oct. 13.—Prince Ferdinand, as the "czar of Bulgaria," has made his triumphal entry into the capital amid scenes of patriotic enthusiasm.

Great Britain has receded from her original position and is now willing that the proposed conference of the powers to settle the crisis in the Near East shall take under advisement other questions in addition to those involved in the annexation of Bosnia and Bulgarian independence. It is now practically certain that the conference will be held, but its scope has not yet been determined.

Austria still adheres strictly to the principle of non-intervention. A Turkish cruiser and three torpedo boats have arrived at Saloniki on the way to the Island of Samos, a Grecian possession. This is Turkey's answer to the proclamation by the Cretans of union with Greece.

For the moment there is little talk of war and even Serbia seems to be taking a calmer view of the situation. The Servian national assembly has endorsed the government's policy, and the government, at the instance of the powers, has been striving to maintain peace.

GREAT BRITAIN ASSENTS.

Programme of Russia's Foreign Minister Proves Acceptable.

London, Oct. 13.—M. Iswolsky, the Russian foreign minister, has succeeded in impressing upon Sir Edward Grey, the British secretary for foreign affairs, the necessity that not only should a conference of the powers be held to settle the crisis in the Near East, but that this conference should take under advisement other questions besides those involved in the annexation by Austria of Bosnia and Herzegovina and the declaration of Bulgarian independence.

This change of front on the part of Great Britain, which has caused great surprise, was announced by the foreign office at the conclusion of a long conference between Sir Edward Grey and M. Iswolsky after a meeting of the cabinet, at which Sir Edward set forth the position he had taken and explained the views of the Russian foreign minister. Sir Edward's secretary in making the announcement said:

"It may be affirmed with certainty that both ministers concur in the necessity for a conference and that the pourparlers at the foreign office, following as they do upon the Franco-Russian negotiations on the same subject, have smoothed away some of the difficulties which were in the way. It is now regarded as probable that the latest events in the Near East also necessitate the enlarging of the scope of the questions to be discussed at the conference."

Further than this nothing could be ascertained officially as to the questions M. Iswolsky desired to include. In fact, it is doubtful if it has been decided what shall be taken up in addition to the two actions which brought about the crisis, for it was intimated that the pourparlers at the British foreign office have not yet been concluded and may continue for several days. M. Iswolsky intended to leave for Paris on Wednesday, but he said that his departure would not be possible until Thursday, and that he might remain in London ever longer than that.

It is doubted whether Russia is anxious to reopen the Dardanelles for the present, for if this is done it must be for all nations, and Russia is not likely to desire that while her fleet is so weak. Besides, other treaties in addition to the treaty of Berlin would be involved.

The only point in her previous stand Great Britain is continuing to insist upon apparently is that no modification of a treaty can be permitted without the consent of all parties to that treaty, and at her proposal the powers have instructed their ambassadors at Constantinople to reaffirm this principle. What end can be served by this is not stated by the foreign office, but it can hardly be expected that either Bulgaria or Austria-Hungary will consent to restore the legal status in Bulgaria and Bosnia and Herzegovina before the questions of independence and annexation are considered, as the powers have decided must be done with respect to the Island of Crete.

CAUSES UNEASINESS.

Belligerent Attitude of the Crown Prince of Serbia.

Vienna, Oct. 13.—The inflammatory speeches of Crown Prince George of Serbia, who is inciting the people to war while his father, King Peter, has observed an attitude of caution, cause considerable uneasiness in official circles in Belgrade, according to dispatches received here. There is less fear of a war than of a dynastic crisis and an attempt to place the crown prince on the throne. The Serbian premier has tried vainly to suppress the crown prince, for it is feared that he may lead bands of volunteers against Bosnia, or do something equally rash.

CHILD IS KIDNAPPED IN BROAD DAYLIGHT

Little Chicago Heiress Spirited Away by Three Men.

Chicago, Oct. 13.—In broad daylight, almost within sight of a police station, Margaret Frances Mitchell, eight years old, said to be an heiress to a fortune of $250,000, was kidnapped here and the authorities have instituted a country-wide search for the child. While on the street with her grandmother the little girl was snatched by one of three men in an automobile and after the grandmother, Mrs. Caroline F. Mitchell, was knocked down, was taken away. Since then no trace of the child has been found, although the police are working on a clew that she was taken immediately out of the city, probably to Sparta, N. C.

The kidnapping is said to be the climax of a prolonged struggle for the possession of the girl. She has been living with her father, Robert Mitchell, at 4829 St. Lawrence avenue, while the mother, Mrs. Margaret B. Mitchell, has lived separately. The fortune was left to the girl by her mother's father. The child is also said to be a relative of Miss Minnie Mitchell, who six years ago was murdered by William Bathol.

According to the story told to the police by the grandmother threats of kidnapping previously had been made and because of this she always accompanied the girl to and from school. She was unable to fully describe any of the men in the automobile, but has urged the police to search at Sparta, where, it is said, the mother recently resided.

THREE TRAINS WRECKED.

Engineer Caught Between the Tender and Boiler and Fatally Hurt.

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 13.—Three trains were wrecked in the New York Central yards near the Black Rock station. A yard engine with a string of cars attached, a freight train coming into the city and Michigan Central passenger train No. 3 were in the mix-up, which resulted in the fatal injury of John W. Kinney, engineer of the switch engine, who was caught between the tender and boiler. None of the passengers was hurt.

The switch engine and freight train collided at the junction of the Niagara Falls line and a siding. Both engines were ditched and several freight cars piled up. Before a flagman could be sent back the Michigan Central passenger train came along on the Falls branch of the New York Central and crashed into the wreckage. None of the passenger cars left the tracks. The debris from the freight cars caught fire, but the passenger coaches were pulled out of danger.

TAFT TOURING HIS OWN STATE

Republican Candidate Visits Many Ohio Towns.

SAYS HE IS FRIEND OF LABOR

Declares the Statements of Bryan and Gompers to the Contrary Are Untrue. Laid Down the Law and the Principles Upon Which Labor Organizations in This Country Have Built Up Their Prosperity.

Akron, O., Oct. 13.—Seventeen Ohio towns heard and saw William H. Taft. He talked from Cincinnati to Akron, through a portion of the state conceded to have been a Foraker stronghold, with a portion of the territory Democratic. While there was not the same vim and snap to the enthusiasm which the candidate got in some portions of the West, he was listened to by large crowds, numbering thousands in many places, and what he said was well applauded and many cheers were proposed and executed with a will. There was no shout for Bryan heard. The important speeches of the day were at Zanesville, Cambridge and Akron, where in each instance the candidate left the train to meet his audience. In his Zanesville speech Mr. Taft went after both Mr. Bryan and Mr. Gompers.

"Mr. Bryan goes around the country saying I am the father of injunctions," declared Mr. Taft. "It is not true. I did not invent injunctions, or injunctions in labor disputes. But it is quite natural that Mr. Bryan should make the mistake, because in a letter he wrote to the district attorney of Belmont, O., he said he has not read my decisions."

Continuing, Mr. Taft gave great emphasis to what he regarded as the effect of the decisions he had rendered on the bench.

"I laid down the law, and I laid down the principles," he said, "upon which the labor organizations in this country have since built up their prosperity and their usefulness and instead of saying that I am an enemy, they recognize that I am one of the greatest benefactors labor has had. I decided a case against the Brotherhood of Engineers and the brotherhood condemns me. In four years they got into court in St. Louis and they had to cite my case to induce the court to withdraw the injunction there because I had laid down the principles upon which they could organize, could have their officers, could raise their funds, could go on and conduct strikes under advice of the officers, and in that case they induced, on the authority of my decisions, the judge to withdraw his injunction and they went ahead and won the strike. That same thing occurred in a court in Cincinnati and in a decision rendered in Chicago. If you will examine the cases, you will find that instead of being an oppressor of labor I am its benefactor."

TALKS TO STUDENTS.

Bryan Delivers Address at Nebraska University.

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 13.—In an address at the state university W. J. Bryan attacked the argument of Governor Hughes of New York in defense of the Republican platform, dwelling on the difference between the two platforms relating to publicity of campaign contributions, and discussed the propriety of President Roosevelt supporting Mr. Taft.

Delivered forcibly and in Mr. Bryan's best style, his speech was repeatedly cheered by the university students. In attacking the position of the Republicans in the tariff situation, he delivered epigrams which kept the students cheering for minutes. During the speech he took a vote of the students who were for and against publicity of campaign funds, and those who were for and against election of senators by a direct vote.

The principal part of the speech of the candidate was occupied by an answer to the arguments of Hughes, who spoke to the university students a short time ago.

FOR ALLEGED FORGERY.

Frank Marrin on Trial for Crime Committed Fifteen Years Ago.

New York, Oct. 13.—For the alleged forgery fifteen years ago of a mortgage by which he obtained thousands of dollars from Mrs. Caroline Barry, an aged recluse who died in penury in Brooklyn last summer, Frank C. Marrin was put on trial here. Marrin is alleged to have secured $65,000 from Mrs. Barry.

Marrin, as "Judge Stone," was convicted in Philadelphia some years ago for fraud in the famous Storey cotton case.

CLAIMS SHE WAS SOLD.

Woman Says She Was Forced to Marry a Man She Did Not Love.

New Brunswick, N. J., Oct. 13.—That she was sold for $100 and forced by her father to marry a man she did not love, was the statement made by seventeen-year-old Julia Madelin, who last Saturday shot and killed Tony Madelin, to whom she was married four months ago. The girl said she had no regret for her act.

"I was ill and lying on the bed when he came in Saturday night," said she. "He asked me why supper was not ready and I told him I was not well enough to get it. Then he ordered me to get up and close a window. I said I could not, and he struck me. He beat and kicked me and then taking out his knife, said he would kill me. I ran around him and got the revolver and when he made as if he would stab me I killed him."

The position of Madelin's body when found by the police indicated that he had been deliberately fired upon from the back while he sat at the supper table. A knife was found on the body.

BIG DIAMOND ROBBERY.

Negro Arrested in St. Louis Charged With the Theft.

St. Louis, Oct. 13.—George Foster, a negro, was arrested in this city on a charge of stealing diamonds and jewelry exceeding in value $35,000 from S. C. Powell, a wholesale jeweler of New York.

When Foster was searched by the police $25,000 worth of unset diamonds were found on his person and in his trunk, as were also $1,000 worth of diamond jewelry and $500 worth of watches. Ten thousand dollars' worth are yet to be recovered.

The valuables were stolen, it is said, from Mr. Powell while he was on a train coming from Chicago to St. Louis on June 29. Foster has been a dining and sleeping car porter.

FIGHT A DUEL TO THE DEATH OVER WOMAN

Chicago Men Have Desperate Battle With Knives.

Chicago, Oct. 13.—A duel to the death over a young woman resulted in two men being taken dying to the county hospital, and the severe injury of the seconds in jumping from a second story window to evade arrest. The men who fought with knives, friends of the unidentified woman, are George Kohick and George Sanieret. Their seconds, who tried to escape when the police arrived, are Alexander Pearcech and Joseph Busherman. The seconds later were arrested and locked up in the Maxwell station.

With bodies bared to the waist and with drawn stiletos the men started to fight. Pearcech and Busherman acted as seconds and several times separated the combatants when they clinched. After a few minutes fighting Kohick succeeded in stabbing Sanieret in the back. Sanieret retaliated quickly by springing upon Kohick and sinking his dagger several times in his opponent's side and back. Then both men fell to the floor just as a squad of police from the Maxwell street station burst in the door.

THAW AT MATTEAWAN.

Millionaire Recommended to Hospital for the Criminal Insane.

Newburgh, N. Y., Oct. 13.—Harry K. Thaw arrived at Fishkill Landing from White Plains in charge of Dr. Amos Baker, first assistant superintendent of the Matteawan state hospital for the criminal insane, and Edward Conroy, an attendant. A carriage from the hospital met them at the station.

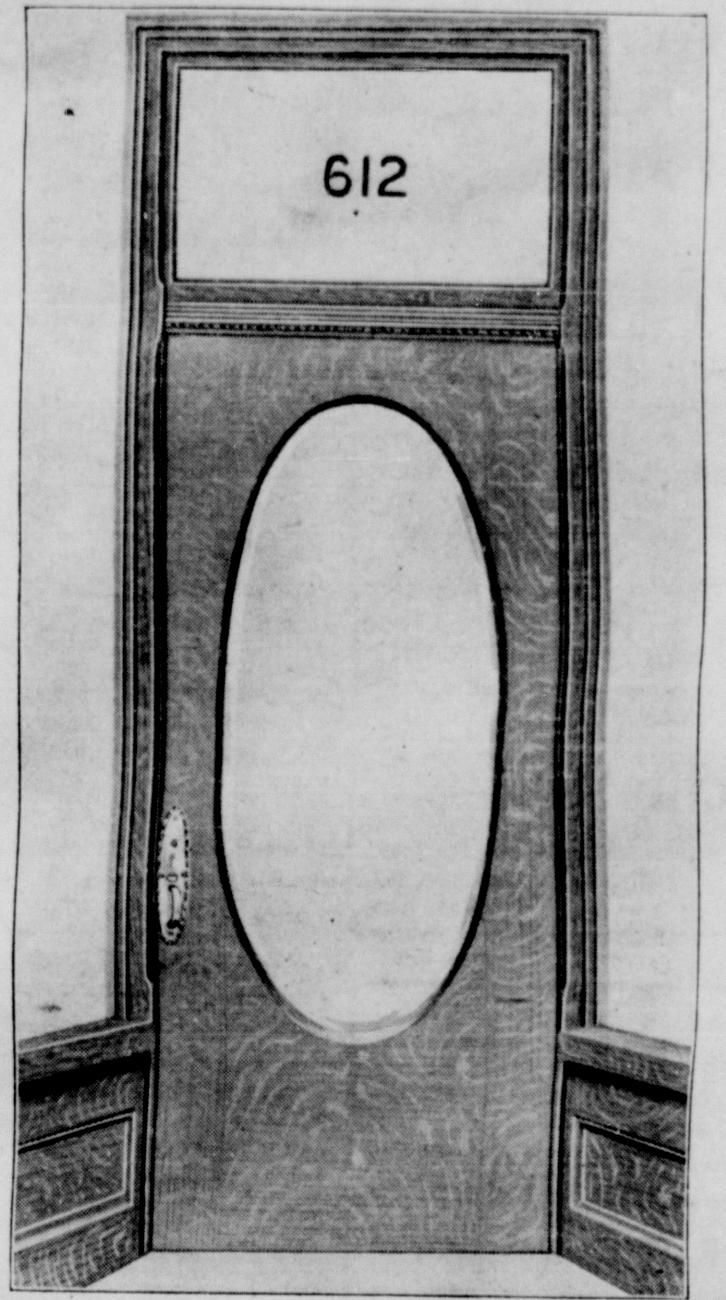

When Thaw and his custodians arrived at the hospital supper had been served and a special meal was prepared for Thaw. After supper Thaw was taken to the quarters assigned him in Ward 1, north. He may be given a special room later. He will retire at 8 o'clock each night and arise at 6 a. m. He had nothing to say regarding the order recommending him to Matteawan made by Judge Mills at White Plains.

Convicted of Attempted Extortion.

Clinton, Ia., Oct. 13.—Alfred Paul, a New Hampshire man, was convicted of attempted extortion by threats and sent to the penitentiary for an indeterminate term. The conviction followed Paul's attempts to extort $500 from A. G. Smith, a Clinton banker, by writing a "Black Hand" letter. Paul is twenty-two years old.

Iowa Merchant a Suicide.

Boone, Ia., Oct. 13.—Charles G. Bard, a merchant of Pilot Mound, committed suicide by taking carbolic acid. Financial troubles are said to be the cause for the act.

IN THE CASE OF ORIE LEE

But One Theory Developed in Regard to Motive for Murder.

Wadsworth, O., Oct. 13.—Orie Lee, the pretty factory girl, is dead and buried. Her sweetheart, Guy Rasor, is in jail. The officials still are probing, both for evidence and a motive. So far but one theory has been developed. This alleged motive was substantiated by the report of the county coroner. He stated that Miss Lee was about to become a mother, a fact which had been alleged by acquaintances of the dead girl immediately after her body was found.

The motive set up by the officials is that a wedding several times postponed was the only legal means of saving the girl's honor and that the murder resulted to make the wedding unnecessary.

ONE MAN KILLED.

Four Others Injured at a Fire in Milwaukee.

Milwaukee, Oct. 13.—In a fire following the explosion of a can of varnish that wrecked the plant of the A. Lange Manufacturing company, John Kirch, engineer, was so severely burned that he died in the emergency hospital. Four other men were burned in rescuing Kirch. The loss is $15,000.

If you wish to help Gov. Johnson financially the way to do it is to vote the republican ticket, as the governor says he did not want the nomination and was obliged to give up a prospective $40,000 lecture engagement for the chance of drawing $7,500 as governor.

AN EFFORT is being made to arouse sentiment that will result in the passage of a county peddlers license bill at the next session of the legislature. It is claimed that the country peddlers are more of a damage to home trade than are the catalogue houses, and that scattered over the state are over 3,000 agents selling goods that they peddle from door to door throughout the country districts.

SENATOR KNUTE NELSON will deliver a political address in this city at the opera house on the evening of Monday, October 19th. It is expected that the seating capacity of the building will be taxed to its utmost on this occasion as the meeting will be the big one of the campaign. Senator Nelson is not only well known here but is one of the most prominent men in public life in the United States today, and the people of Brainerd are to be congratulated that they are to have an opportunity to hear so able a man.

JOHNSON cannot be elected governor without the aid of republican votes and he is depending on republican support to carry him safely over the bridge and into green pastures and with him his hoard of democratic office holders. Johnson had said he did not want the nomination and that he would under no considerations accept it, but when he was shown that the democratic party of Minnesota was lost without his assistance and that of 50,000 republicans he consented to run and is now asking for the third time that the republicans forsake their ticket and elect him. It is not expected that they will be hoodwinked three times in succession.

An Unaccepted Challenge.

To Mr. Bryan's complaint that the federal authorities have not prosecuted the United States Steel corporation Attorney General Bonaparte has made a reply which clearly entitles the Nebraska agitator to the protection of the Society For the Prevention of Cruelty to Children. Mr. Bonaparte says:

"I have no information, official or personal, that Mr. Bryan has violated any federal statute. Therefore the department has not prosecuted him. I have no information, official or personal, that the steel trust has violated any federal statute. Therefore the department has not prosecuted it. If Mr. Bryan will give me such information about the steel trust the steel trust will be prosecuted, and if the steel trust will give me such information about Mr. Bryan Mr. Bryan will be prosecuted. But in either case I shall want specific charges, sustained by legal evidence and verified by an impartial inquiry, not loose talk, embellished by oratorical fireworks and evolved from the inner consciousness of an eager and perennial candidate for office."

Mr. Bryan's attitude is old fashioned—ridiculously old fashioned—from the Bryan viewpoint. He holds to the principle that neither an individual nor a corporation should be condemned without trial, that there should be no trial except upon formal complaint and that no complaint should be considered unless backed up with competent evidence worthy of judicial investigation. That is the Bonaparte attitude and the Republican attitude.

Mr. Bryan's attitude is radically different. He would crush the interstate corporations and try them afterward. He regards their very existence as proof that they are lawbreakers. He would indict them on hearsay testimony, place them on trial in the absence of a formal complaint and convict them in obedience to popular clamor. Irrespective of their guilt or innocence as determined by established rules of evidence.

The Republican contention is that corporations, being the creatures of law, can be effectively controlled and regulated by law and that they should not be penalized except by due legal process. The Bryan policy is that the only way to reform them is to destroy them, that they are in the very nature of things enemies to the common good and that their prosperity may justly be confiscated without process of law. Bryanism aims at the destruction of property rights invested in corporate organizations. Republicanism insists that those rights, as defined by law, shall be preserved.

Attorney General Bonaparte's challenge will not be accepted. Mr. Bryan is dealing in theories, not in facts, this year and has no time to devote to such trifling things as law and evidence. He knows in his heart that if he had a prima facie case against the steel corporation and the moral courage to submit it to the department of justice at Washington the machinery of the law would be instantly set in motion to prosecute his complaint. On the other hand, he is just as well aware that even though he were a thousand times accused, anonymously or unofficially, of violating the federal statutes, the attorney general could not proceed against him except on a formal, sworn complaint, supported by competent legal evidence.

Mr. Bryan is at liberty to swing himself on either horn of the dilemma. His puerile whine that the government has not prosecuted the steel corporation is due either to shameless hypocrisy or shameful ignorance of the first principles of law.

HELP FOR RAILROADS

How Government Will Co-operate to Prevent Flood Damages.

GEOLOGICAL SURVEY TO AID.

Amount of Water Flowing In Rivers Under Certain Conditions to Be Computed—Conference Proposed Between Railway Officials and the Survey—Thousands to Be Saved Yearly.

Director George Otis Smith of the United States geological survey has invited officers of the leading railways of the United States to confer on a co-operative plan by which it is expected the railroads will be able to save thousands of dollars a year. The plan also contemplates most effective assistance to the government on the part of railroads. The time and place of the proposed conference are to be agreed on later.

The scheme, which has already been approved by a number of the engineers of the big lines, is one of the gathering of facts as to the amount of water flowing in the rivers of the United States under certain conditions and in different periods of the year. Naturally the railroads have been the chief sufferers from floods in the basins where their tracks lie. They have suffered not only from damage to their own property, but they have been sued by other corporations and private citizens on the ground that their bridges and culverts were the causes of flood damage. The railroad authorities have felt that many judgments against the roads might not have been rendered if they had been able to produce authentic figures on floods. But they have not been able to do this. The national conservation commission has been advised of the proposed plan, and whatever results come from it will undoubtedly be considered by the commission at its joint meeting with the governors of states or their representatives in Washington next December.

The survey suggests that the railroad companies establish gauges on their bridges and culverts and appoint some of their employees to take daily readings. The survey agrees to have its experts make frequent visits to these stations and take actual current meter measurements so that a rating table of each channel will be available.

For many years the survey has been studying the difference in the flow of rivers in various basins in the United States. At present it is engaged in putting the information gained by its study into shape for the use of the national conservation commission, together with other information which it is gathering especially for the inventory of the country's natural resources that the commission is preparing.

The survey has been unable to extend its observations to many regions where the information would be of vital importance because it lacks funds. The co-operation of the railroads would permit the survey to cover such regions. The expense to the railroads under this arrangement would be trifling, the survey authorities say, because the roads could designate men already on their payrolls, such as draw tenders, tank men or water station engineers, to take the daily readings. On the other hand, if the survey could be relieved of the cost of daily supervision of the gauges it would be able to carry on the more technical parts of the undertaking.

The information which the railroads will obtain if this plan is put into operation is of immense value to them. The survey's figures on floods have always been accepted by the courts as prima facie evidence. If the belief of the railroad authorities is well founded, enabling it to extend its operations to their fields, will result in big savings to them. The idea of co-operation as to floods originated with the engineering departments of the railroads themselves. Representatives of these departments of a number of roads held a conference with representatives of the survey in Chicago last June, and at that time the survey agreed to interview the proper railroad authorities concerning a basis of co-operation.

The survey has further suggested to the railroads that they supply it with all information they may have on hand concerning the character of the various drainage areas above their bridges. Some of the roads have collected at great expense a large amount of valuable information which could be made of high value to all the railroads if it were gathered together and compiled. This material would also contribute largely to the general study of the water resources of the United States which the survey has been carrying out for a number of years and upon which it is particularly busy just now in the compilation of all available information along these lines for the use of the national conservation commission.

In connection with the advent of C.
A. Rattinger, who came here from Bemidji to assume the position of manager of the Ransford Hotel under Land-young ladies have been secured to take charge of it. In addition to a complete and up-to-date cigar stock they will handle the daily papers, periodicals and books and a fine line of confectionery.

The stand will be open from 7 a. m. to 12 p. m. Mr. Rattinger, who was formerly with the Waldorf at Fargo, and later with the Markham at Bemidji, comes highly recommended and will assume the position which has been vacant since Mr. Trent resigned to go on the road.

BUYING MUCH WHEAT

Brainerd Milling Company is Making
Good Cash Market for Crow
Wing County Farmers

The Brainerd Milling company is doing a good work in furnishing a cash
market at high prices for the wheat
raised in Crow Wing county and the farmers appreciate the fact and are coming long distances to sell their wheat. When they do so they spend a large part of the money with our Brainerd merchants. Thus the prosperity of the mill adds to the prosperity of the
merchant and it is to the latter's interest to aid in the upbuilding of the business of the mill by selling every sack
of Roman flour possible. Roman flour
has proved the equal of, if not superior
to, any other in the market and should be given the preference not only by the householder, but by the merchant.

The mill company has also put in a set of feed rollers and is prepared to
grind feed for farmers on short notice.
This will also prove a great convenience
to the farmers.

SIMPLE RECIPE
CURES CATARRH

A Noted Authority Gives Advice
to Relieve and Prevent
Catarrh

A FINE HOME PRESCRIPTION
Victims Here Should Make Some
up and try it as it Does'nt
Cost Much--Works Rapidly

Here is a prescription which should be valued by all who are subject to
rheumatism, kidney and bladder troubles and especially catarrh. While the latter is considered by most sufferers
an incurable disease, there are few
men or women who will fail to experience great relief from the following
simple home prescription, and if taken
in time it should prevent an attack of catarrh during the entire season.

Any one can mix the following:
Fluid Extract Dandelion one-half ounce,
Compound Kargon one ounce, Com-
pound Syrup Sarsaparilla three ounces.
Shake well in a bottle and use in teaspoonful doses after each meal and
again at bedtime. Get these ingredients from any pharmacist whom you
know handles only pure drugs.

This prescription acts directly upon
the eliminative tissues of the kidneys
to make them filter and strain from the blood, the poisons that produce all forms of catarrhal affections. Relief
is often felt even after the first few doses and it is seldom that the sufferer
ever experiences a return attack with-
in the year.

This prescription makes a splendid
remedy for all forms of blood disorders
and such symptoms as lame back,
bladder weaknesses and rheumatism
pains are entirely dispelled.

As this valuable, though simple, recipe comes from a thoroughly reliable source, it should be heeded by every reader who suffers from catarrh.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

Coming Attractions

Oct. 15—"The Girl and the Hawk."

A Fact About the Stage

Many of the plays that are presented
on the stage today depend upon exaggeration, dime-novel plots, blood-and-
thunder, pistols, explosions and sensational features. To some extent this kind of drama is successful because there are people who enjoy it and who never stop to consider the impossibility
of some of the plots. But those who enjoy a clean, natural and consistent
play that is built around a pure heart-
story without any bloodcurdling situations, knock-downs and drag-outs, will find a delightful treat in witnessing
"The Girl and the Hawk" at the opera
house Oct. 15.

"At The Unique"

The Unique was well filled last night
and the program gave excellent satisfaction. The headliner was "The Romance of a War Nurse," an Edison
film in ten acts, a story of the civil
war. "Biscuits Like Mother Used to Make," and "Freedom for All," are
comedies, while "A Woman's Jealousy"
is a strong dramatic piece. The program will be repeated tonight and tomorrow night.

ENGAGE IN SHARP TILT.

Opposing Counsel in Oil Trust Case
Clash.

Chicago, Oct. 13.—Counsel for the Standard Oil company accused the
government counsel in the equity suit
to dissolve the Standard Oil company
of fishing for information to assist in
the prosecution of criminal cases
against the defendant company.

The tilt between counsel came after
the direct examination of Henry E.
Felton, general traffic manager of the Standard Oil company, had been concluded and the cross-examination
chief had begun. Special Government Attorney Kellogg asked Mr. Felton to describe the methods of the defendant's traffic department when Attorney Rosenthal objected, declaring that Mr. Kellogg was simply fishing for testimony to assist Assistant District Attorney Wilkerson who sat near him.
"Isn't it apparent that you are simply fishing for testimony to assist the assistant attorney in charge of the criminal prosecutions, who sits at
your elbow prompting you?" said Mr.
Rosenthal.

Mr. Kellogg made a speedy denial
and Mr. Rosenthal then specifically charged that Mr. Wilkerson was prompting the questions.
The counsel for the defense declared that an instance of taking information from one case to another
in spite of the assertion of government
counsel that it had not so assisted in criminal cases appeared in a statement from the Standard Oil company
of Indiana, which was used by the district attorney before the United States circuit court of appeals in an application to increase the superce-
deas bond in the case in which Judge
Landis fined the oil company $29,240,

RECEDES FROM HER POSITION

Action of Great Britain Causes Considerable Surprise.

CONFERENCE WILL BE HELD

Powers Will Endeavor to Settle the Crisis in the Near East and England Now Is Willing That the Conference Shall Consider Other Questions in Addition to Those of Bosnia and Bulgaria.

London, Oct. 13.—Prince Ferdinand, as the "czar of Bulgaria," has made his triumphal entry into the capital amid scenes of patriotic enthusiasm.

Great Britain has receded from her original position and is now willing that the proposed conference of the powers to settle the crisis in the Near East shall take under advisement other questions in addition to those involved in the annexation of Bosnia and Bulgarian independence. It is now practically certain that the conference will be held, but its scope has not yet been determined.

Austria still adheres strictly to the principle of non-intervention.

A Turkish cruiser and three torpedo boats have arrived at Saloniki on the way to the island of Samos, a Grecian possession. This is Turkey's answer to the proclamation by the Cretans of union with Greece.

For the moment there is little talk of war and even Serbia seems to be taking a calmer view of the situation. The Serbian national assembly has endorsed the government's policy, and the government, at the instance of the powers, has been striving to maintain peace.

GREAT BRITAIN ASSENTS.

Programme of Russia's Foreign Minister Proves Acceptable.

London, Oct. 13.—M. Iswolsky, the Russian foreign minister, has succeeded in impressing upon Sir Edward Grey, the British secretary for foreign affairs, the necessity that not only should a conference of the powers be held to settle the crisis in the Near East, but that this conference should take under advisement other questions besides those involved in the annexation by Austria of Bosnia and Herzegovina and the declaration of Bulgarian independence.

This change of front on the part of Great Britain, which has caused great surprise, was announced by the foreign office at the conclusion of a long conference between Sir Edward Grey and M. Iswolsky after a meeting of the cabinet, at which Sir Edward set forth the position he had taken and explained the views of the Russian foreign minister. Sir Edward's secretary in making the announcement said:

"It may be affirmed with certainty that both ministers concur in the necessity for a conference and that the pourparlers at the foreign office, following as they do upon the Franco-Russian negotiations on the same subject, have smoothed away some of the difficulties which were in the way. It is now regarded as probable that the latest events in the Near East also necessitate the enlarging of the scope of the questions to be discussed at the conference."

Further than this nothing could be ascertained officially as to the questions M. Iswolsky desired to include. In fact, it is doubtful if it has been decided what shall be taken up in addition to the two actions which brought about the crisis, for it was anticipated that the pourparlers at the British foreign office have not yet been concluded and may continue for several days. M. Iswolsky intended to leave for Paris on Wednesday, but he said that his departure would not be possible until Thursday, and that he might remain in London ever longer than that.

It is doubted whether Russia is anxious to reopen the Dardanelles for the present, for if this is done it must be for all nations, and Russia is not likely to desire that while her fleet is so weak. Besides, other treaties in addition to the treaty of Berlin would be involved.

The only point in her previous stand Great Britain is continuing to insist upon apparently is that no modification of a treaty can be permitted without the consent of all parties to that treaty, and at her proposal the powers have instructed their ambassadors at Constantinople to reaffirm this principle. What end can be served by this is not stated by the foreign office, but it can hardly be expected that either Bulgaria or Austria-Hungary will consent to restore the legal status in Bulgaria and Bosnia and Herzegovina before the questions of independence and annexation are considered, as the powers have decided must be done with respect to the island of Crete.

CAUSES UNEASINESS.

Belligerent Attitude of the Crown Prince of Serbia.

Vienna, Oct. 13.—The inflammatory speeches of Crown Prince George of Serbia, who is inciting the people to war while his father, King Peter, has observed an attitude of caution, cause considerable uneasiness in official circles in Belgrade, according to dispatches received here. There is less fear of a war than of a dynastic crisis and an attempt to place the crown prince on the throne. The Serbian premier has tried vainly to suppress the crown prince, for it is feared that he may lead bands of volunteers against Bosnia, or do something equally rash.

CHILD IS KIDNAPPED IN BROAD DAYLIGHT

Little Chicago Helress Spirited Away by Three Men.

Chicago, Oct. 13.—In broad daylight, almost within sight of a police station, Margaret Frances Mitchell, eight years old, said to be an heiress to a fortune of $250,000, was kidnapped here and the authorities have instituted a country-wide search for the child. While on the street with her grandmother the little girl was snatched by one of three men in an automobile and after the grandmother, Mrs. Caroline F. Mitchell, was knocked down, was taken away. Since then no trace of the child has been found, although the police are working on a clew that she was taken immediately out of the city, probably to Sparta, N. C.

The kidnapping is said to be the climax of a prolonged struggle for the possession of the girl. She has been living with her father, Robert Mitchell, at 4829 St. Lawrence avenue, while the mother, Mrs. Margaret B. Mitchell, has lived separately. The fortune was left to the girl by her mother's father. The child is also said to be a relative of Miss Minnie Mitchell, who six years ago was murdered by William Bathol.

According to the story told to the police by the grandmother threats of kidnapping previously had been made and because of this she always accompanied the girl to and from school. She was unable to fully describe any of the men in the automobile, but has urged the police to search at Sparta, where, it is said, the mother recently resided.

THREE TRAINS WRECKED.

Engineer Caught Between the Tender and Boiler and Fatally Hurt.

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 13.—Three trains were wrecked in the New York Central yards near the Black Rock station. A yard engine with a string of cars attached, a freight train coming into the city and Michigan Central passenger train No. 3 were in the mix-up, which resulted in the fatal injury of John W. Kinney, engineer of the switch engine, who was caught between the tender and boiler. None of the passengers were hurt.

The switch engine and freight train collided at the junction of the Niagara Falls line and a siding. Both engines were derailed and several freight cars piled up. Before a flagman could be sent back the Michigan Central passenger train came along on the Falls branch of the New York Central and crashed into the wreckage. None of the passenger cars left the tracks. The debris from the freight cars caught fire, but the passenger coaches were pulled out of danger.

TAFT TOURING HIS OWN STATE

Republican Candidate Visits Many Ohio Towns.

SAYS HE IS FRIEND OF LABOR

Declares the Statements of Bryan and Gompers to the Contrary Are Untrue. Laid Down the Law and the Principles Upon Which Labor Organizations in This Country Have Built Up Their Prosperity.

Akron, O., Oct. 13.—Seventeen Ohio towns heard and saw William H. Taft. He talked from Cincinnati to Akron, through a portion of the state conceded to have been a Foraker stronghold, with a portion of the territory Democratic. While there was not the same vim and snap to the enthusiasm which the candidate got in some portions of the West, he was listened to by large crowds, numbering thousands in many places, and what he said was well applauded and many cheers were proposed and executed with a will. There was no shout for Bryan heard. The important speeches of the day were at Zanesville, Cambridge and Akron, where in each instance the candidate left the train to meet his audience. In his Zanesville speech Mr. Taft went after both Mr. Bryan and Mr. Gompers.

"Mr. Bryan goes around the country saying I am the father of injunctions," declared Mr. Taft. "It is not true. I did not invent injunctions, or injunctions in labor disputes. But it is quite natural that Mr. Bryan should make the mistake, because in a letter he wrote to the district attorney of Belmont, O., he said he has not read my decisions."

Continuing, Mr. Taft gave great emphasis to what he regarded as the effect of the decisions he had rendered on the bench.

"I laid down the law, and I laid down the principles," he said, "upon which the labor organizations in this country have since built up their prosperity and their usefulness and instead of saying that I am an enemy, they recognize that I am one of the greatest benefactors labor has had. I decided a case against the Brotherhood of Engineers and the brotherhood condemns me. In four years they got into court in St. Louis and they had to cite my case to induce the court to withdraw the injunction there because I had laid down the principles upon which they could organize, could have their officers, could raise their funds, could go on and conduct strikes under advice of the officers, and in that case they induced, on the authority of my decisions, the judge to withdraw his injunction and they went ahead and won the strike. That same thing occurred in a court in Cincinnati and in a decision rendered in Chicago. If you will examine the cases, you will find that instead of being an oppressor of labor I am its benefactor."

TALKS TO STUDENTS.

Bryan Delivers Address at Nebraska University.

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 13.—In an address at the state university W. J. Bryan attacked the argument of Governor Hughes of New York in defense of the Republican platform, dwelling on the difference between the two platforms relating to publicity of campaign contributions, and discussed the propriety of President Roosevelt supporting Mr. Taft.

Delivered forcibly and in Mr. Bryan's best style, his speech was repeatedly cheered by the university students. In attacking the position of the Republicans in the tariff situation, he delivered epigrams which kept the students cheering for minutes. During the speech he took a vote of the students who were for and against publicity of campaign funds, and those who were for and against election of senators by a direct vote.

The principal part of the speech of the candidate was occupied by an answer to the arguments of Hughes, who spoke to the university students a short time ago.

FOR ALLEGED FORGERY.

Frank Marrin on Trial for Crime Committed Fifteen Years Ago.

New York, Oct. 13.—For the alleged forgery fifteen years ago of a mortgage by which he obtained thousands of dollars from Mrs. Caroline Barry, an aged recluse who died in penury in Brooklyn last summer, Frank C. Marrin was put on trial here. Marrin is alleged to have secured $65,000 from Mrs. Barry.

Marrin, as "Judge Stone," was convicted in Philadelphia some years ago of fraud in the famous Storey cotton

CLAIMS SHE WAS SOLD.

Woman Says She Was Forced to Marry a Man She Did Not Love.

New Brunswick, N. J., Oct. 13.—That she was sold for $100 and forced by her father to marry a man she did not love, was the statement made by seventeen-year-old Julia Madellin, who last Saturday shot and killed Tony Madellin, to whom she was married four months ago. The girl said she had no regret for her act.

"I was ill and lying on the bed when he came in Saturday night," said she. "He asked me why supper was not ready and I told him I was not well enough to get it. Then he ordered me to get up and close a window. I said I could not, and he struck me. He beat and kicked me and then taking out his knife, said he would kill me. I ran around him and got the revolver and when he made as if he would stab me I killed him."

The position of Madellin's body when found by the police indicated that he had been deliberately fired upon from the back while he sat at the supper table. A knife was found on the body.

BIG DIAMOND ROBBERY.

Negro Arrested in St. Louis Charged With the Theft.

St. Louis, Oct. 13.—George Foster, a negro, was arrested in this city on a charge of stealing diamonds and jewelry exceeding in value $35,000 from S. C. Powell, a wholesale jeweler of New York.

When Foster was searched by the police $25,000 worth of unset diamonds were found on his person and in his trunk, as were also $1,000 worth of diamond jewelry and $500 worth of watches. Ten thousand dollars' worth are yet to be recovered.

The valuables were stolen, it is said, from Mr. Powell while he was on a train coming from Chicago to St. Louis on June 29. Foster has been a dining and sleeping car porter.

FIGHT A DUEL TO THE DEATH OVER WOMAN

Chicago Men Have Desperate Battle With Knives.

Chicago, Oct. 13.—A duel to the death over a young woman resulted in two men being taken dying to the county hospital, and the severe injury of the seconds in jumping from a second story window to evade arrest. The men who fought with knives, friends of the unidentified woman, are George Kohick and George Sanieret. Their seconds, who tried to escape when the police arrived, are Alexander Pearcech and Joseph Busherman. The seconds later were arrested and locked up in the Maxwell station.

With bodies bared to the waist and with drawn stilettoes the men started to fight. Pearcech and Busherman acted as seconds and several times separated the combatants when they clinched. After a few minutes fighting Kohick succeeded in stabbing Sanieret in the back. Sanieret retaliated quickly by springing upon Kohick and sinking his dagger several times in his opponent's side and back. Then both men fell to the floor just as a squad of police from the Maxwell street station burst in the door.

THAW AT MATTEAWAN.

Millionaire Recommended to Hospital for the Criminal Insane.

Newburgh, N. Y., Oct. 13.—Harry K. Thaw arrived at Fishkill Landing from White Plains in charge of Dr. Amos Baker, first assistant superintendent of the Matteawan state hospital for the criminal insane, and Edward Conroy, an attendant. A carriage from the hospital met them at the station.

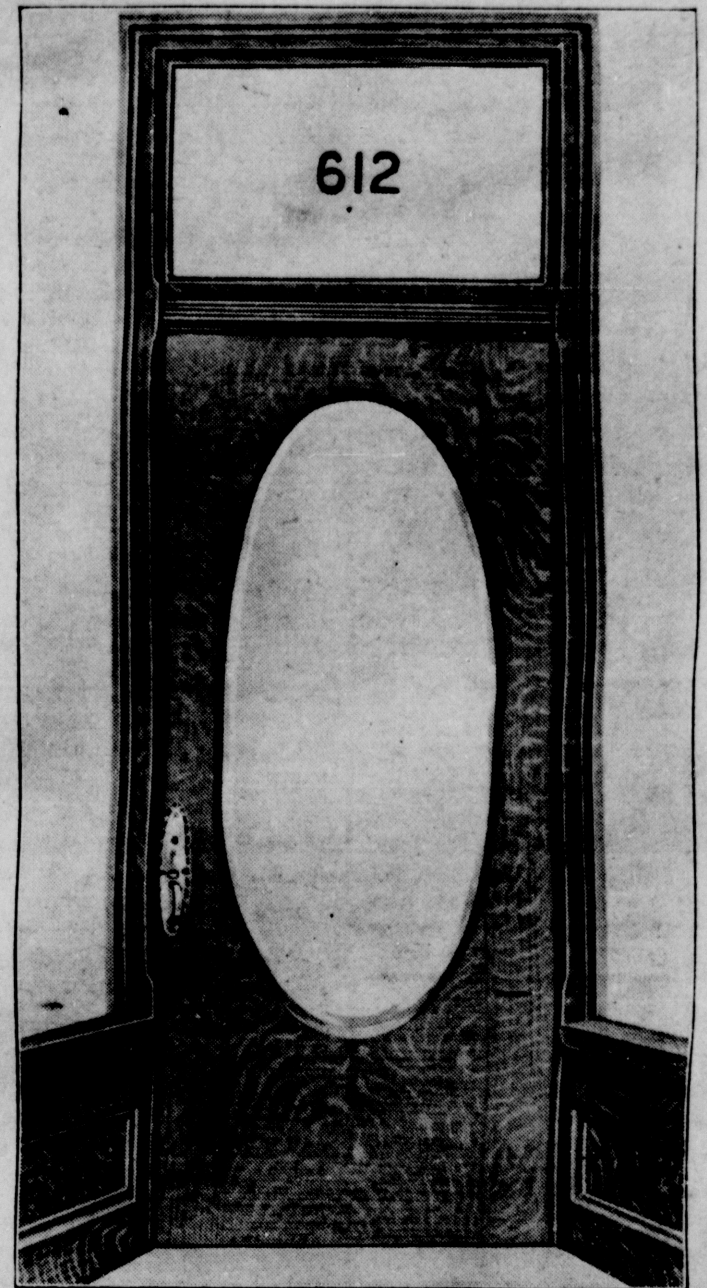

When Thaw and his custodians arrived at the hospital supper had been served and a special meal was prepared for Thaw. After supper Thaw was taken to the quarters assigned him in Ward 1, north. He may be given a special room later. He will retire at 8 o'clock each night and arise at 6 a. m. He had nothing to say regarding the order recommending him to Matteawan made by Judge Mills at White Plains.

Convicted of Attempted Extortion.

Clinton, Ia., Oct. 13.—Alfred Paul, a New Hampshire man, was convicted of attempted extortion by threats and sent to the penitentiary for an indeterminate term. The conviction followed Paul's attempts to extort $500 from A. G. Smith, a Clinton banker, by writing a "Black Hand" letter. Paul is twenty-two years old.

IN THE CASE OF ORIE LEE

But One Theory Developed in Regard to Motive for Murder.

Wadsworth, O., Oct. 13.—Orie Lee, the pretty factory girl, is dead and buried. Her sweetheart, Guy Rasor, is in jail. The officials still are probing, both for evidence and a motive. So far but one theory has been developed. This alleged motive was substantiated by the report of the county coroner. He stated that Miss Lee was about to become a mother, a fact which had been alleged by acquaintances of the dead girl immediately after her body was found.

The motive set up by the officials is that a wedding several times postponed was the only legal means of saving the girl's honor and that the murder resulted to make the wedding unnecessary.

If you wish to help Gov. Johnson financially the way to do it is to vote the republican ticket, as the governor says he did not want the nomination and was obliged to give up a prospective $40,000 lecture engagement for the chance of drawing $7,500 as governor.

AN EFFORT is being made to arouse sentiment that will result in the passage of a county peddlers license bill at the next session of the legislature. It is claimed that the country peddlers are more of a damage to home trade than are the catalogue houses, and that scattered over the state are over 3,000 agents selling goods that they peddle from door to door throughout the country districts.

SENATOR KNUTE NELSON will deliver a political address in this city at the opera house on the evening of Monday, October 19th. It is expected that the seating capacity of the building will be taxed to its utmost on this occasion as the meeting will be the big one of the campaign. Senator Nelson is not only well known here but is one of the most prominent men in public life in the United States today, and the people of Brainerd are to be congratulated that they are to have an opportunity to hear so able a man.

JOHNSON cannot be elected governor without the aid of republican votes and he is depending on republican support to carry him safely over the bridge and into green pastures and with him his hoard of democratic office holders. Johnson had said he did not want the nomination and that he would under no considerations accept it, but when he was shown that the democratic party of Minnesota was lost without his assistance and that of 50,000 republicans he consented to run and is now asking for the third time that the republicans forsake their ticket and elect him. It is not expected that they will be hoodwinked three times in succession.

An Unaccepted Challenge.

To Mr. Bryan's complaint that the federal authorities have not prosecuted the United States Steel corporation Attorney General Bonaparte has made a reply which clearly entitles the Nebraska agitator to the protection of the Society For the Prevention of Cruelty to Children. Mr. Bonaparte says:

"I have no information, official or personal, that Mr. Bryan has violated any federal statute. Therefore the department has not prosecuted him. I have no information, official or personal, that the steel trust has violated any federal statute. Therefore the department has not prosecuted it. If Mr. Bryan will give me such information about the steel trust the steel trust will be prosecuted, and if the steel trust will give me such information about Mr. Bryan Mr. Bryan will be prosecuted. But in either case I shall want specific charges, sustained by legal evidence and verified by an impartial inquiry, not loose talk, embellished by oratorical fireworks and evolved from the inner consciousness of an eager and perennial candidate for office."

Mr. Bonaparte's attitude is old fashioned—ridiculously old fashioned—from the Bryan viewpoint. He holds to the principle that neither an individual nor a corporation should be condemned without trial, that there should be no trial except upon formal complaint and that no complaint should be considered unless backed up with competent evidence worthy of judicial investigation. That is the Bonaparte attitude and the Republican attitude.

Mr. Bryan's attitude is radically different. He would crush the interstate corporations and try them afterward. He regards their very existence as proof that they are lawbreakers. He would indict them on hearsay testimony, place them on trial in the absence of a formal complaint and convict them in obedience to popular clamor, irrespective of their guilt or innocence as determined by established rules of evidence.

The Republican contention is that corporations, being the creatures of law, can be effectively controlled and regulated by law and that they should not be penalized except by due legal process. The Bryan policy is that the only way to reform them is to destroy them, that they are in the very nature of things enemies to the common good and that their prosperity may justly be confiscated without process of law. Bryanism aims at the destruction of property rights invested in corporate organizations. Republicanism insists that those rights, as defined by law, shall be preserved.

Attorney General Bonaparte's challenge will not be accepted. Mr. Bryan is dealing in theories, not in facts, this year and has no time to devote to such trifling things as law and evidence. He knows in his heart that if he had a prima facie case against the steel corporation and the moral courage to submit it to the department of justice at Washington the machinery of the law would be instantly set in motion to prosecute his complaint. On the other hand, he is just as well aware that even though he were a thousand times accused, anonymously or unofficially, of violating the federal statutes the attorney general could not proceed against him except on a formal, sworn complaint, supported by competent legal evidence.

Mr. Bryan is at liberty to swing himself on either horn of the dilemma. His puerile whine that the government has not prosecuted the steel corporation is due either to shameless hypocrisy or shameful ignorance of the first principles of law.

HELP FOR RAILROADS

How Government Will Co-operate to Prevent Flood Damages.

GEOLOGICAL SURVEY TO AID.

Amount of Water Flowing in Rivers Under Certain Conditions to Be Computed—Conference Proposed Between Railway Officials and the Survey—Thousands to Be Saved Yearly.

Director George Otis Smith of the United States geological survey has invited officers of the leading railways of the United States to confer on a co-operative plan by which it is expected the railroads will be able to save thousands of dollars a year. The plan also contemplates most effective assistance to the government on the part of railroads. The time and place of the proposed conference are to be agreed on later.

The scheme, which has already been approved by a number of the engineers of the big lines, is one of the gathering of facts as to the amount of water flowing in the rivers of the United States under certain conditions and in different periods of the year. Naturally the railroads have been the chief sufferers from floods in the basins where their tracks lie. They have suffered not only from damage to their own property, but they have been sued by other corporations and private citizens on the ground that their bridges and culverts were the causes of flood damage. The railroad authorities have felt that many judgments against the roads might not have been rendered if they had been able to produce authentic figures on floods. But they have not been able to do this. The national conservation commission has been advised of the proposed plan, and whatever results come from it will undoubtedly be considered by the commission at its joint meeting with the governors of states or their representatives in Washington next December.

The survey suggests that the railroad companies establish gauges on their bridges and culverts and appoint some of their employees to take daily readings. The survey agrees to have its experts make frequent visits to these stations and take actual current meter measurements so that a rating table of each channel will be available.

For many years the survey has been studying the difference in the flow of rivers in various basins in the United States. At present it is engaged in putting the information gained by its study into shape for the use of the national conservation commission, together with other information which it is gathering especially for the inventory of the country's natural resources that the commission is preparing.

The survey has been unable to extend its observations to many regions where the information would be of vital importance because it lacks funds. The co-operation of the railroads would permit the survey to cover such regions. The expense to the railroads under this arrangement would be trifling, the survey authorities say, because the roads could designate men already on their payrolls, such as draw tenders, tank men or water station engineers, to take the daily readings. On the other hand, if the survey could be relieved of the cost of daily supervision of the gauges it would be able to carry on the more technical parts of the undertaking.

The information which the railroads will obtain if this plan is put into operation is of immense value to them. The survey's figures on floods have always been accepted by the courts as prima facie evidence. If the belief of the railroad authorities is well founded their co-operation with the survey, enabling it to extend its operations to their fields, will result in big savings to them. The idea of co-operation as to floods originated with the engineering departments of the railroads themselves. Representatives of these departments of a number of roads held a conference with representatives of the survey in Chicago last June, and at that time the survey agreed to interview the proper railroad authorities concerning a basis of co-operation.

The survey has further suggested to the railroads that they supply it with all information they may have on hand concerning the character of the various drainage areas above their bridges. Some of the roads have collected at great expense a large amount of valuable information which could be made of high value to all the railroads if it were gathered together and compiled. This material would also contribute largely to the general study of the water resources of the United States which the survey has been carrying out for a number of years and upon which it is particularly busy just now in the compilation of all available information along these lines for the use of the national conservation commission.

BUYING MUCH WHEAT

Brainerd Milling Company is Making
Good Cash Market for Crow
Wing County Farmers

The Brainerd Milling company is doing a good work in furnishing a cash
market at high prices for the wheat
raised in Crow Wing county and the
farmers appreciate the fact and are
coming long distances to sell their wheat. When they do so they spend a large part of the money with our Brainerd
merchants. Thus the prosperity of the mill adds to the prosperity of the
merchant and it is to the latter's interest to aid in the upbuilding of the business of the mill by selling every sack
of Roman flour possible. Roman flour
has proved the equal of, if not superior
to, any other in the market and should
be given the preference not only by the
householder, but by the merchant.

The mill company has also put in a
set of feed rollers and is prepared to
grind feed for farmers on short notice.
This will also prove a great convenience
to the farmers.

SIMPLE RECIPE CURES CATARRH

A Noted Authority Gives Advice
to Relieve and Prevent
Catarrh

A FINE HOME PRESCRIPTION
Victims Here Should Make Some
up and try it as it Does't
Cost Much--Works Rapidly

Here is a prescription which should
be valued by all who are subject to
rheumatism, kidney and bladder troubles and especially catarrh. While the latter is considered by most sufferers
an incurable disease, there are few
men or women who will fail to experience great relief from the following
simple home prescription, and if taken
in time it should prevent an attack of
catarrh during the entire season.

Any one can mix the following:
Fluid Extract Dandelion one-half ounce,
Compound Kargon one ounce, Com-
pound Syrup Sarsaparilla three ounces.
Shake well in a bottle and use in tea-
spoonful doses after each meal and
again at bedtime. Get these ingredients from any pharmacist whom you
know handles only pure drugs.

This prescription acts directly upon
the eliminative tissues of the kidneys
to make them filter and strain from the
blood, the poisons that produce all
forms of catarrhal affections. Relief
is often felt even after the first few
doses and it is seldom that the sufferer
ever experiences a return attack with-
in the year.

This prescription makes a splendid
remedy for all forms of blood disorders
and such symptoms as lame back,
bladder weaknesses and rheumatism
pains are entirely dispelled.

As this valuable, though simple, recipe comes from a thoroughly reliable
source, it should be heeded by every
reader who suffers from catarrh.

HAD A GOOD MEETING

There Was an Enthusiastic Meeting of Taft-Jacobson Club Monday Evening

The Taft-Jacobson republican club held an enthusiastic and well attended business meeting Monday evening. The club is steadily growing in membership,
the rolls now bearing the names of over 200 members with new additions daily.

An Enthusiastic Customer

Told her grocer that if he refused to handle "OUR-PIE" Preparation she would trade elsewhere. She knew she could make Lemon, Chocolate and Custard pies better than the expert cook if she used "OUR-PIE" as all the ingredients, carefully prepared, are in the package ready for immediate use.
Each package, enough for two large pies, 10 cents. Order a dozen today from your grocer. Excellent also as a pudding sauce, cake filling, etc.

MEMBERS MAY BE RE-ELECTED

SPECIAL TO THE DISPATCH:—

St. Paul, Oct. 13.—Members of the Minnesota legislature of 1907, who voted to increase the compensation of legislators from $500 to $1000 per term, need have no fear of being ousted if re-elected. The supreme court, in a per curiam decision this morning discharged an order to show cause secured by certain defeated Minneapolis candidates for nomination, which sought to keep the names of renominated members from the official ballot. The decision sustains the construction of the attorney general that "any office," means any other office than senator or representative.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

Coming Attractions

Oct. 15—"The Girl and the Hawk."

A Fact About the Stage

Many of the plays that are presented
on the stage today depend upon exaggeration, dime-novel plots, blood-and-
thunder, pistols, explosions and sensational features. To some extent this kind of drama is successful because
there are people who enjoy it and who
never stop to consider the impossibility
of some of the plots. But those who enjoy a clean, natural and consistent
play that is built around a pure heart-
story without any bloodcurdling situations, knock-downs and drag-outs, will
find a delightful treat in witnessing
"The Girl and the Hawk" at the opera
house Oct. 15.

"At The Unique"

The Unique was well filled last night
and the program gave excellent satisfaction. The headliner was "The Romance of a War Nurse," an Edison
film in ten acts, a story of the civil
war. "Biscuits Like Mother Used to Make," and "Freedom for All," are
comedies, while "A Woman's Jealousy"
is a strong dramatic piece. The program will be repeated tonight and tomorrow night.

ENGAGE IN SHARP TILT.

Opposing Counsel in Oil Trust Case
Clash.

Chicago, Oct. 13.—Counsel for the Standard Oil company accused the
government counsel in the equity suit
to dissolve the Standard Oil company
of fishing for information to assist in
the prosecution of criminal cases
against the defendant company.

The tilt between counsel came after
the direct examination of Henry E.
Felton, general traffic manager of the Standard Oil company, had been concluded and the cross-examination
chief had begun. Special Government
Attorney Kellogg asked Mr. Felton to describe the methods of the defendant's traffic department when Attorney Rosenthal objected, declaring
that Mr. Kellogg was simply fishing for testimony to assist Assistant District Attorney Wilkerson who sat near him.

"Isn't it apparent that you are simply fishing for testimony to assist the
assistant attorney in charge of the
criminal prosecutions, who sits at
your elbow prompting you?" said Mr.
Rosenthal.

Mr. Kellogg made a speedy denial
and Mr. Rosenthal then specifically charged that Mr. Wilkerson was prompting the questions. The counsel for the defense declared that an instance of taking information from one case to another
in spite of the assertion of government
counsel that it had not so assisted in
criminal cases appeared in a statement from the Standard Oil company
of Indiana, which was used by the district attorney before the United States circuit court of appeals in an
application to increase the superce-
deas bond in the case in which Judge
Landis fined the oil company $29,240.

claimed he was libeled by Mr. Bel-been discharged because he failed on one occasion to take off his hat in saluting Mr. Belmont.

When the Noise Let Up.

Two young women of stolid, common sense appearance were the sole feminine occupants of a subway car until there entered a flashily dressed girl, with face made up like a cosmetic advertisement and accompanied by a young man attired in the "extreme."
The two young women eyed the newcomer with interest while they continued their conversation. The train slowed down at the next station, the rattle and bang of operation ceased and the voice of one of the young women became suddenly audible:

"If I had a face like that, do you know what I'd do? I'd hock it."
The girl with the makeup looked daggery, her escort looked foolish, the speaker looked out of the window and a dozen passengers looked as though they enjoyed it.—New York Globe.

BASEBALL SITUATION.

Blamed for Increase in Deaths from Heart Disease.

New York, Oct. 13.—Deaths from heart disease increased last week, due, the health department physicians say, to the acute baseball situation.

Last week the deaths were 154, as compared with 129 for the corresponding week in 1907. In Manhattan the deaths were 70, as compared with 58, showing, in the opinion of physicians, that the interest in the game had spread throughout the city, whereas for the week ended Oct. 3, before a final decision regarding the disputed game with Chicago had been made, and when hope of ultimate victory was still high, the deaths were 121 as compared with 123 a year ago.

Bank Clerk Ends His Life.

Minneapolis, Oct. 13.—Leaving no note and apparently with no cause, Arthur P. Peterson of Minneapolis, twenty-two years old, a statement clerk for the Security National bank, committed suicide by shooting himself behind the right ear, after having gone to a secluded spot in the woods at Forty-second avenue north and the city limits.

DETROIT WINS THIRD GAME

Becomes a Real Contender for Baseball Championship.

COBB COMES INTO HIS OWN

Idol of the Detroit Enthusiasts Makes Four Hits in Five Times at Bat. Greatest Credit for the Victory of the American League Over the Chicago Team, However, Is Given to Pitcher Mullin.

Chicago, Oct. 13.—Detroit became a real contender for the world's baseball championship when it defeated Chicago in the third game of the series in decisive fashion, 8 to 3.

Manager Jennings achieved this result with a change in his lineup. Downs was put on the bench and the efficient Schaefer, who is at home in almost any position, was shifted from third to second base, Coughlin occupying the third sack. This shake-up, however, cannot be said to have had any material effect in winning the game, for neither Schaefer nor Coughlin got a hit, while Coughlin bumbled one of his two chances. Thomas was placed behind the bat in place of Schmidt, with better effect, for his double scored one run.

Counting the world's series of last year, this victory was the first Detroit has scored in eight contests for the highest prize in the baseball world. Mullin, elected by Manager Jennings to pitch for Detroit, was steady throughout the game, holding Chicago to seven scattered hits and passing only one man. Pfeister's left-handed shoots for the most part failed to puzzle the Michigan batsmen. Besides issuing three passes, he was hit safely thirteen times, two of the cluster being doubles, and six of them occurring in one inning. It was this inning—the sixth—which gave the game to Detroit.

The gray-clad Tigers, two runs behind Chicago when the inning opened, came across the plate in a procession. The crowd, with the exception of a minority from Detroit, which enjoyed the proceedings hugely, pleaded with vociferous unanimity for the retirement of Pfeister. Manager Chance, who failed to show any traces of embarrassment or displeasure at the way in which Detroit came up from behind and went ahead, smiled cheerfully and ignored the request.

Detroit Star Shines.

Tyrus Cobb, idol of the Detroit enthusiasts, whose playing was a great disappointment a year ago, came into his own. He batted like the natural hitter he is, and ran bases like a flash. His batting average for the day was .800. Out of five times up, he hit safely four times. His stinging single to right in the first drove in O'Leary with the first run of the game. In the fourth, he reached first base on a fielder's choice, but in the sixth he beat out his slow grounder, scoring McIntyre. In the eighth, his sprinting ability enabled him to make a double of a hit which, with a less speedy man would have been good for only one base. In the next inning he singled and he not only stole second, but also pilfered third by a narrow margin. He had no opportunities in the field, to the great regret of his admirers in the stand. Others, whose work contributed materially to the victory, were O'Leary, Crawford and Rossman, each of whom made two hits, although Rossman and O'Leary were both charged with errors.

To Mullin, however, the greatest credit was awarded by the spectators. Even in the fourth inning, when all three of Chicago's runs were scored, he never faltered. His nerve remained steady, his arm strong and his control excellent. The only base on balls which he allowed was turned into a run by Chicago.

KILKENNY CATS.

Mr. Hearst: "After dinner at a friend's house Mr. Bryan stepped aside with me in the hall and proposed that if I would support his candidacy this year he would support me four years hence. I wish he had not said it. I was surprised and humiliated by the proposition. It showed that he considered me merely a trader working for some personal advantage or promotion in politics."

Mr. Bryan: "Mr. Hearst's statement is unqualifiedly false."

"A STATESMAN WITH A CONSCIENCE."

Description of the Republican Presidential Candidate by Senator Borah of Idaho.

(From Senator Borah's Boston Speech.)

"Now, it seems to be conceded by friend and foe that few men have been nominated for the presidency whose experience, whose training and whose sound and wholesome fashion of grasping and dealing with public questions were equal to those of William H. Taft.

"He is not a crusader, he is a statesman with conscience. He has won his present position through a cheerful, unhesitating and undeviating devotion to duty, through actually achieving things on the open field of action, through an intelligent conception of the strength and worth of our great government with its checks and balances; and the strength and capacity of our citizenship with its loyalty and its patriotism.

"No man ever had a deeper regard for the fundamental principles and precepts upon which this government is founded, and no one ever had a firmer conviction that the constitution is a sufficient chart by which to measure all rights and obligations and to gauge all the demands and all the aspirations and restrain and control all the recklessness of this indomitable race of ours. Trained in the law, eleven years on the bench, he explored well the sources of jurisprudence and carried away from his work an everlasting devotion to order and justice.

"Under all circumstances and under all emergencies, he has proved himself a brave, clean-minded, self-poised and courageous statesman. No man can put his finger upon a little or cowardly act, an incompetent or questionable piece of public service—no stain upon his private life, no shadow upon his public career. And standing now in the full fierce light which beats upon a throne, with eager eyes scrutinizing every act of a long and arduous public career, no doubt arises as to his experience and ability, no challenge comes to his fine sense of duty or his patriotism."

The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe was fined $700 on three counts, the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific $6,850 on fifty-nine counts, the Missouri Pacific $600 on four counts, and the St. Louis and San Francisco $1,200 on eleven counts.

CHANGE IN SENTIMENT.

Congressman Halvor Steenerson of Crookston, was a visitor at Republican State headquarters in St. Paul to-day, conferring with Chairman Brown and Secretary Martin.

"There is a very decided change in political sentiment in the Ninth district," said Mr. Steenerson in an interview, "compared with two years ago. Many who were Johnson Republicans, are now lined up for the Republican ticket from top to bottom. It is generally recognized in my district at least, that Johnson is not running for governor this year for any other reason than to carry the Democratic party and Bryan, if possible, through the coming election in Minnesota. No Republican can vote for him this fall as a candidate who is supporting the Roosevelt platform and beliefs. Johnson cannot parade a letter from Roosevelt this time, as he did two years ago, to catch Republican votes. He is now, and must so stand, an out and out apostle of Democracy and things Democratic, including Bryan and Bryanism this time, instead of Roosevelt and a Roosevelt platform.

"In the Ninth district I find that Jacobson is especially strong throughout the rural districts. Jacobson has been the choice of the farmers for several years for governor. They now have him, and will stand by him. This being presidential year, voters will not allow personalities to influence their votes. They recognize that national issues are at stake.

"Bryan's speech at Crookston was a great disappointment. He actually lost ground there for Democracy. Thousands of people were there to hear him, and waited till to p. m. before he appeared. The address was a narrow appeal to farmers, a harangue, trying to prejudice them against Republicanism. It didn't take at all. Only once was there the slightest symptom of applause. He spoke to a silent, disappointed, audience."
